This was proved by Camper. In order to ascertain, he says, to what degree putrefaction would advance in an infant before its lungs would float in water, I made different experiments, at Amsterdam, on this subject; and I have found that, in those who had died before birth, the head may be so far decomposed by putrefaction, that the slightest force was sufficient to detach the bones of it from each other, as well as those of the arms and legs, before the lungs, which now began to participate in the putrefaction, would float in water. These observations are derived from expositions of the bodies of infants in water as well as to the air on land.
